ANNUAL REPORT TO CDNL 2001 – 2002

The National Library & Archives of Egypt was established in 1870 and is located in Cairo (the Capital). Since then, it continues to render all facilities and library services to users in Egypt and abroad. During the last few years the NLE has adopted scientific plans to develop its technical process and information services in order to get the image of digital library. So many projects have been already implemented in that direction other projects are in progress.

The development strategy is based on five main pillars, preserving the National heritage, developing the human resources, utilizing modern technology, establishing a strong connections worldwide, adopting self-marketing plan (promotion plan).

In this brief presentation we are trying to demonstrate the experience of NLE access the information age, in the third millennium as a digital national library.
